Work on Lima Street Storm Drain Underway

Side Branches Planned To Carter Debris Basin

Work was begun last week at Orange Grove and Lima on the Lima Street storm drain, scheduled for completion by Jan. 1.

The Sierra Madre section of the drain will extend from Orange Grove to the Bailey Canyon and Carter debris basins. The entire project, termed the Arcadia Wash Channel, will extend from the Rio Hondo River north of El Monte to the Sierra Madre basins.

The section from the Rio Hondo to Huntington Place in Arcadia already is completed.

Digging is scheduled to start immediately from Orange Grove to Ramona and in the section south of Highland to and including Grand View.

On June 20 the section from Carter to the debris basin will be started.

Under the contract, sections to be under construction are limited to 1,000 feet at a stretch.

Next year a side branch of the drain will be extended from Orange Grove up Baldwin to the Carter debris basin.

The cost of the work directly connected with the storm drain will be paid by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District and the U.S. Corps of Engineers. The city will pay for work not directly connected with the drain out of gas tax funds.

The city's share of the financial burden will include the digging of new gutters, the construction of new curbs and gutters, excavation to lower the crown and repaving work.

E. Mitchell Named to Head Bank

A veteran Western banker has been named manager of the Sierra Madre office of First Western Bank and Trust Co., it was announced this week by J. Arthur Taylor, vice chairman of the bank's board of directors and its senior executive in Southern California.

He said that Emmett R. Mitchell will become manager of the local office on June 1, succeeding Albert E. Morgan, who is resigning. Mr. Mitchell has had a long career in branch banking in the West.

He and Mrs. Mitchell, who have two children, are long-time residents of Oregon. Mr. Mitchell holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Oregon State College and served as a lieutenant colonel in the United States Army.

Mr. Taylor also announced the management staff of the Sierra Madre office is being augmented by the appointment of Cameron W. Waterbury as assistant cashier. Mr. Waterbury is being promoted and transferred from the First Western office in Bellflower. He has been with First Western for 10 years.

'Extravaganza' Rides Again

The Sierra Madre PTA, bowing to "popular demand," will present its "Extravaganza'" for the second time Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Sierra Madre School auditorium.

This time children will be admitted, if accompanied by an adult. Tickets—available at the door, the Chamber of Commerce office, from room mothers or from Mrs. Virgil Nordyke (DOuglas 7-1678)—will be 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

The "Extravaganza," featuring the fathers can-can line and the PTA "Players," first was presented May 17 in the auditorium.

Census Shows Population of 8,752 Here

There are now 8,752 Sierra Madreans, according to official figures released by Benjamin K. Kundin, special supervisor for the U.S. Bureau of Census.

The special census just completed shows a gain of 983 residents over the last special census taken in 1952. (The News last week reported unofficially a population gain of about 1,000.)

The new figure is some 267 short of the 9,019 expected from a projection of the 2,854 water meters in Sierra Madre.

The new figures have been sent to Washington for certification.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington estimated that the new population figure would entitle the city to an increase of about $9,000 yearly in revenues from state gas tax money and in lieu motor vehicle license taxes. The special census cost the city an estimated $1,500.

Dog Shots To Be Given Next Week

Inoculation of dogs against rabies will take place June 7, 8 and 11 at the Sierra Madre School grounds.

The shots this year are required under the ordinance passed last January by the City Council. The ordinance becomes effective June 1, and dogs must be inoculated by July 1, when new licenses are required.

The shots will be given by members of the Southern California Veterinaries Association under the auspices of the PTA. The fee will be $1.50.

The inoculation at the school grounds will employ the chick-embryo vaccine, whose use requires that the dog be re-inoculated within two years.

If owners prefer tissue-phenolized vaccine, they must have their pets inoculated by private veterinaries. In such cases, re-inoculation must take place within one year.

Police will be on hand at the school grounds to issue dog licenses.

Under the inoculation ordinance, violation is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or six months' imprisonment or both.

It provides that every dog over the age of six months must be inoculated unless the owner has a certificate proving past vaccination.

Fire Causes $4,000 Loss On Carter Ave.

Fire caused an estimated $4,000 damage May 23 in the home of Mrs. Suzanne Thayer Biely, 207 W. Carter.

Twenty-four firemen and two pumpers from the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call at 9:57. They found the family away and a couch smoldering. The fire was reported extinguished at 10:30 p.m.

While the flames did not spread beyond the couch and walls behind it, the heat and thick smoke caused extensive damage to clothing, furniture and interior walls, according to James C. Heasley, fire chief.

Kuntz Exhibit to Open at Library on June 3

Artist Roger Kuntz, three-time award winner in the past month, will provide the climax of the first year of exhibitions at the Library Gallery. Mr. and Mrs. Kuntz will attend the Open House to be held from 2 until 5 Sunday, June 3, by Friends of the Library. His oils and drawings will be on exhibit the remainder of the month.

Exhibit cases in the main Library will be filled with gold and silver, brass and copper hand-wrought jewelry of Annette Robyns, whose work has been exhibited through Europe and at the Metropolitan Museum.

Within the past three weeks Roger Kuntz has scored three triumphs. He was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship in painting; was a winner of the Los Angeles County Museum Annual and took the Jose Drudis Purchase Prize with his entry.

Presently teaching at Scripps College and Claremont Graduate School, he has been a Southern Californian since early childhood. He saw Army service as a turret gunner and then received his Master of Fine Arts degree at Claremont in 1950. Along with his studies he taught painting and drawing at night to prisoners at CIM at Chino.

Mr. Kuntz has exhibited at the Corcoran Gallery; the Biennial at Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the San Francisco Museum among others. His paintings have been purchased by the American Academy of Design, L.A. County Museum, Scripps College, Pasadena Art Museum and the Denver Museum.

New Swimming Pool Needed

Our public swimming pool, buried in the Sierra Madre Canyon, is surrounded partially by tall Eucalyptus trees. Admittedly, a picturesque setting.

And that, unfortunately, is about all that can be said for it.

On the debit side there is virtually no parking space near the pool, the trees filter out most of the sunshine, it"s too shallow at its deepest point—not much over 7 feet—to permit diving with safety, and the cost of maintenance is high.

Last week Miss Gloria G. Bronte was awarded $1,250 in Los Angeles Superior Court to compensate for injuries she received when diving into the pool in 1953. At a recent City Council meeting it was revealed that the Recreation Commission for the third consecutive year recommended that the pool be closed.

Despite these developments, the City Council voted unanimously to make repairs to the pool insisted upon by the insurance company and to open it again this summer.

The Council's action actually wasn't as arbitrary as it sounds. For the Canyon Pool, after all, is the only one we have. And new pools come high.

It seems about time, though, that the City Council do some serious thinking about building a new pool, possibly in the City Park.

With more families moving into our city every day, particularly younger couples with school-age children, the need for a new pool will grow more acute each year. Likewise the possibility of accidents in our present antiquated pool will increase.

The City expects to take in possibly $38,000 more a year as the result of the one per cent increase in the sales tax. Why couldn't part of this money be budgeted toward a modern pool with proper safety features?

Or doesn't this come under the heading of "capital improvements," including a new city hall?—H.W.E.

For the many who have inquired, Quakers Paul and Jean Johnson are in Europe now after closing what was left of the Jordan Project after the January burning and looting. They are heading home for Skyland Drive, none too soon to suit their friends.

An excerpt from their last letter: "After careful searching of the whole situation we have reluctantly concluded that the project must be laid down, at least in the form in which it has been constituted. At the time of the attack we had just reached the most hopeful period in the project's history, when we had begun to expand the work to five near villages and to seek closer integration with the government. Now, with the uncertain position of the government, the general lack of public security, and the vast unrest in the whole Middle East, it seems abundantly clear that this is not the time to re-establiish such a long term type of program."

BACK FROM DUTY in Portsmouth, Va., is Charlie Ascher, eldest son of Maggie. Charlie is now a full-fledged naval medical corpsman and, after leave, will be stationed at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Charlie allows as how tidewater Virginia is beautiful, Washington, D.C., is beautifuller, and home is beautifullest.

THOSE HANDSOME colored telephone sets are not lightly come by. At the business office of C. W. and T. Co., there is a display of sets in red, blue, yellow, green, beige and gray.

"How much?"

"$12.75."

"And then it's all mine?"

"No. Then you can use it."

ROGER KUNTZ, artist, will be present to shake everybody's hand and look pleased at the Sunday 2 until 5 Open House at the Library Gallery. Fifteen of his canvasses will be shown AND an array of small drawings and watercolors. Last time the Exhibits Committee tried this, with Jirayr Zorthian, the drawings were sold before the open house could close.

MARY AND SAM Haskins have sold the big house on Orange Grove and are readying to move to the beach near Oceanside. The old town won't seem the same without Mary on the board of some civic organization.

CAR TROUBLE? Call Bill and Rita Schmidt. They probably won't answer, however, being mostly in the garage these days. Seems Bill had the car repaired for $100 a few months ago. It developed unusual and costly noises again and the repair estimate this time was $200. Bill said no, bought a book, and he and Rita took down the car and put it back together again. It's a dream now and no parts left over.

HAROLD ROBERTS, who also has residence at the Home of the Green Frog, has a column on Page 10 explaining how the green frog came to be. It won't take the edge off his tale to state that there is a high mortality rate in his frogs. The first ones, of terra cotta, were made in Germany. As they were filched or broken, Councilman Roberts used up the local imported supply. The present amphibian of the genus Rana was brought up from Mexico City, now sits in the banana stack.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

It was very kind of both the Authors Club in Hollywood and The News here to make a big thing of my 50 years of column writing. But, darn it, I can't ever again pretend to be only 39 years old.

* * *

COLUMNING HAS changed tremendously since 1906, when I accidentally became a columnist. That is, it was as much a surprise to me as to the editor who gave me the job. But that's a long story I have too often had to tell. The crux of it is that the editor found some penciled copy on his desk, from some unknown kid, and didn"t read it.

A few weeks later his columnist suddenly got sick. The editor read the stuff he had stuck in a drawer, in case it was called for, and decided it was good enough to print. That very day I had awakened blind, and a noted doctor had told me there was only a remote possibility that I could ever see again.

So I was astounded when my sister read me the humor column—and it was all my stuff. When the editor, who had never heard of me before, heard of my trouble he sent word to me to keep on writing the column.

I thought the columnist must be seriously ill, and happily dictated the column from my bed every day. After months of that, I was able to be led downtown to meet the editor, for the first time, and learned by accident that the columnist had been ill only one day.

The editor—a salaried man himself—told him to take a vacation when he learned of my troubles, and had been paying me out of his own pocket all that time. That's the kind of wonderful human beings I have met repeatedly in the newspaper game.

* * *

COLUMNING HAS changed greatly, and not for the better, to my old-fashioned mind. In those days all columnists were poet-philosophers, and their one great effort was to be funny. Now their one great effort is to appear to be authorities on all subjects under the sun, and daily point out how the world ought to be run. But one must forgive them. It is much easier to tell others how to run the world than it is to be funny every day.

* * *

WHEN MY FIRST novel came out, Irvin Cobb congratulated me by saying: "A column is just something to read today and wrap up a lunch in tomorrow, but a book is something your grandchildren may treasure with pride."

For all that, it has been a wonderful experience to write columns. A novelist who reaches 100,000 readers in a year is doing much better than average, but a columnist on the Sierra Madre News may reach that many in a year, counting all the repeaters.

And a columnist in the Sunday Times may reach close to 1,000,000 readers every week. The columnist is vastly closer to his readers than the novelist is—they feel he belongs to them.

I have had the pleasure of calling thousands of admirable efforts and brave, heroic or noble individuals to public attention and in at least a few cases I have been of some help in bringing about justice.

Of course, now and then I make someone pretty mad, too. All in all, though, I wouldn't trade the job of columnist for any other I know about, including those which pay a hundred times better. Especially those.

One thing columning has taught me is that one who lives the simple life, and enjoys it, is far richer than anyone who has mere millions.

Bill Dillingham Reports From Abroad

Europeans have many false ideas about life in America. Here are some of them:

Spaniards, after reading a recent article in one of their magazines, think it is amazing that the average person in New York City spends about nine dollars per day on carfare. This figure refers to bus and subway costs, without taxis.

It is assumed that everybody in America must carry identification cards, and that one must fill out police forms at hotels. This is the security practice all over Europe, so people figure it must also exist in the U.S.A.

Scandinavians, contrasting their free-hospitals organization with those of other countries, are generally under the impression that there is no free medical service in America. They think that the poor American who is sick is ignored by all.

AMERICAN WOMEN are said to know nothing about cooking (preparing, instead, everything from cans), and the belief is widespread that husbands are compelled to do part of the housework.

Manufacturing methods in America are thought to be based on the principle that one's purchase — be it a radio, typewriter, clock, etc. — will break down after just a few years' use. But this is not supposed to disturb Americans because they never buy with the intention of keeping anything more than a couple of years.

Automobiles are cited as an example of this "early trade-in" policy. Although our cars are too expensive for Europeans to run (gasoline being priced between fifty and eighty cents per gallon), people frequently judge them by banging on a fender and exclaiming: "Listen to that tin sound." This means that the vehicle cannot be used for knocking down walls, trees, etc.

CURRENTLY ACTIVE in Europe is word that America sells out-moded and faulty military equipment to its NATO allies. This idea is not only had by the communist element. Right-wing citizens have heard it enough to believe it. With the high proportion of jet crashes in Denmark, for example, many people in that country are putting the guilt on us and leaving their pilots and mechanics blameless.

American women are generally thought of as tall, being either very well-dressed or to the opposite extreme of wearing jeans. They are pictured as good-looking, having big feet and being highly independent. In Italy they think of the American girl as somewhat loose morally; in Scandinavia they consider her prudish; in France "incomprehensible." But all over she is known as highly intelligent. And if she is married, that she is the boss of the family.

The most popular misconception about our country is that all Americans are rich.

The Poet's Corner

Sierra Madre

By Robert Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Zeuschner (Age 15)

Under the spreading Wistaria vine
The village beauty stands;
The queen, a lovely girl is she,
With small and slender hands.
And the matchless beauty of her face
Is unequaled throughout the lands.

Her hair is soft, and blonde, and long,
Her voice is like a song;
Her smile is bright, to everyone's delight,
She waves happily at the throng,
And greets them all with a smile,
For she will be our queen for awhile.

Working, playing, and being photographed,
Onward through the day she will go.
Each morning begins with a laugh,
This day will not go slow!
Something attempted, something won,
And now, our queen, your job is done.

And tourists coming from far away
Enjoy our city fair;
Under the vine they spend the day,
And leave without a care.
Oh, come back to our city soon
And see our lovely vine in bloom.

Brutal treatment of meat animals in many of our nation's slaughter houses has caused indignation to grow among the public. Other famous packing plants use humane methods.

Some methods used in the former are too horrible to list in detail here. Suffice it to say that last year nearly 90 million hogs, 90 million lambs, 20 million cattle and 10 million calves were put to death by techniques which have been outlawed as to cruel by most European countries.

Offending the sense of decency and humanity of many millions of people is a serious thing. Damage to human sensibility, in my opinion, lowers morals and ideals. Americans need not tolerate a breaking down in moral fibre of the people.

To abolish these cruelties in the United States, I have introduced a bill (H.R. 9603) which requires the use of humane methods in the slaughter of livestock and poultry in interstate or foreign commerce.

I am hoping for an early hearing by the House Agriculture Committee.

Similar bills have been placed in the hoppers of the House and Senate, but mine is the tightest in that it gives the slaughter houses but two years to comply. Other bills allow a leeway as long as five years.

* * *

PACKERS USED to defend their barbaric techniques with excuses that newer, humane methods tend to coagulate the blood of animals and spoil the meat.

But new developments have been perfected by some slaughter houses as well as by individuals who have been studying the inhumane aspects of animal butchery for a long time. Besides being more humane these new methods are even claimed in some cases to improve the quality of the meat.

The Meat Institute, an association of packers intent on raising the standards of ethics and practices in the industry, has now approved the principle of humane slaughter and has approved my bill.

Emil Paulus, a butcher in Cedarburg, Wis., has developed an electric shock method for killing hogs that meets all objections.

The Remington Arms Co., has patented a captive bolt system now in use at the Seitz Packing Co., St. Joseph, Mo. It fires a steel bolt from a pistol at a controlled distance, knocking out the animal but not spoiling the meat.

THE HORMEL CO., Austin, Minn., uses carbon dioxide gas to render unconscious. It works effectively.

Already my bill has the backing of the American Humane Association, Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the Animal Welfare Institute of New York, and the Citizens Association for the Care of Animals, New York, and now the American Meat Institute. I was the speaker at the Annual Meeting of the ASPCA in New York recently.

The bill meets all objections which could be raised on religious grounds. It does not change the method of preparing Kosher meat.

You can help to pass it — and abolish the cruelties so rife in American slaughter houses—by writing directly to the House Agriculture Committee or by corresponding with friends in other parts of the country and asking them to urge their Congressmen to support it.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

On the night of May 23 my daughter's house at the Wistaria Vine came close to burning to the ground. Another ten or fifteen minutes would have done the job.

It was only the prompt and efficient work of the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department that saved us from a major catastrophe.

I would like to publicly thank and commend every member of that fine organization for answering a real "May Day" call from us.

Very truly yours,
DICK THAYER

P.S. — They even cleaned up afterward.

Dear Sir:

The Los Angeles County Dental Society extends a vote of deep appreciation for your assistance with the 1956 Dental Health Week commemoration.

We are sure your active interest and participation helped to alert your readers to better dental health practices.

Thank you!

Sincerely,
LOSS ANGELES COUNTY DENTAL SOCIETY
Howard V. Jones, D.D.S.
President

Dear Editor:

Once again I take my facile pen in hand to decry the local situation.

In this age of many wonder drugs, cure-alls and panaceas, there is yet one disease that man has neither found a cure for . . . nor has he as yet founded a non-profit association to do research into the cause and cure of this malevolent sickness that, each spring, plagues mankind and drives wives into a frenzy.

I am referring, of course, to the widespread malady known as "Fishing-Pox."

This is not, as some might believe, merely a local situation. The signs of this sickness can be seen, along with warming weather, throughout the nation . . . although it seems to hit hardest in small towns situated in the shadow of stream filled mountains . . . such as Sierra Madre.

One of the earliest signs of the disease is the digging out of catalogues from sporting goods houses. It is then that the wife begins to lose her hold on the household. Any man can completely ignore, without qualm, requests for lawn cutting, shopping trips, bill paying, looking at little Johnny's report card . . . and all other household duties, once this nefarious bug has bitten.

The second stage of the sickness is when he looks at the bank balance and then disappears for a couple of hours . . . returning home with a small tin box filled with various, brightly colored bits of wood, plastic, metal and feathers . . . with hooks attached . . . and no change left for the kid's school lunches in the morning.

The climax appears when, suddenly, he announces that he and a couple of buddies are going fishing. This first disappearance is the important point in this disease. Until now, there has been no talking to the "man of the house" . . . unless it had to do with fish.

After this trip, which will probably be three or four days, the signs of the disease will slowly begin to abate . . . but don't kid yourself that the disease is cured, because there will be other trips. They won't be so frenzied, but they will happen.

And the major trouble with dealing with a man afflicted with "Fishing-Pox" is that there is no known cure . . . other than when the snow begins to fly and the fish quit biting.

Therefore, it is essential that something be done to rectify this situation. With the help of Mrs. Pashton and several other well-meaning souls, I propose to start a non-profit association to deal with this weighty problem.

Our purpose will be research into the causes and possible cures of this dreadful malady. It will be known as the "Fishing-Pox Association," and we will attempt to gain free radio and TV time as an accredited public service. Naturally, we are asking for assistance in this worthy endeavor and invite fishing widows to participate.

Yours very sincerely,
J. PUMPHREY PASHTON

That Settles It

Settled comfortably behind the afternoon paper, my father was interrupted by a phone call. We gathered from the conversation that there had been a traffic accident between the caller's car and my mother's. When my father said "No, Mrs. Adams has not mentioned a word of this to me," we sensed real drama.

Being a patient man and not easily upset, my father listened to further details. Then he asked, "Did I understand you to say that my wife admitted it was her fault?" A short pause. "Well then, my good man," father stated firmly, "I'm sorry, but you must have the wrong Adams!" (From Reader's Digest.)

Humor in Uniform

While hospitalized in the 250th Station Hospital at Ragensburg, Germany, I was in the same ward with a Pfc. Smith. He was continually firing questions at anyone within range. One morning he asked the doctor one too many.

"In civilian life,were most of your cases accidents, Captain?"

"I don't know," replied the surgeon.

"How come you don't know?" Smith persisted.

"Soldier," said the captain as he walked away, "I was an obstetrician." (From Reader's Digest.)

The biggest mistake a man can make is to be sure he can't possibly make one.

Annual Friendship Club Picnic Set June 4 in the City Park

The Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club will hold its annual picnic June 4 at noon in the City Park.

Speakers for the afternoon program in the Park House will be Dr. Bertha Bruce Lininger, chairman of the Woman's Health Federation's Senior Citizenship Division; Dr. Mason Rose, psychologist and author of "You and Your Personality," and G. Zeth Brooks, executive director of the Woman's Health Federation.

Dr. Lininger will discuss health problems and likes and dislikes of senior citizens.

Dr. Ross will explain his plan for the "Senior Citizens Project," of which he is the founder, to be set up as the Golden Days Ranch on Golden State Highway 99 in the San Fernando Valley. Dr. Rose has dedicated the property for erection of 150 two-room-and-bath units on a non-profit basis for pensioners.

He proposes to set up a cooperative community, operated by the senior citizens themselves with their own community council and their own administrative rules and ordinances.

Mrs. Brooks, as executive director of the federation, which is sponsoring the project, also will discuss this proposal.

Music for the program will be provided by A. D. Hoenshel of Pasadena.

Among the out-of-town guests will be Dr. Florence Peebles of Pasadena, Rodney Ellsworth of Pasadena City College, W. Coke, founder of the Arcadia Senior Citizens group, and Wayne Davidson of the Los Angeles Council of Senior Citizens. Also present will be leaders from various groups in the San Gabriel Valley.

Persons attending the picnic are asked to bring their own lunch and service. Coffee will be provided. Everyone is invited.

Santa Anita DAR Welcomes New Citizens at Reception

The Santa Anita Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution honored new citizens at the annual welcoming reception held in the Arcadia High School Cafeteria.

Mrs. David R. Wood, citizenship chairman, presented G. P. Rayl, principal of the adult education evening class, who extended a cordial invitation to all in attendance to visit the citizenship classes in the future.

John B. Palmer, teacher and instructor of the citizenship class, discussed the objectives of such classes, requirements, procedure and stated that in reality, the impetus for adult education classes in effect today stems from the citizenship classes. He expressed great pride and satisfaction derived from instructing these individuals from other countries and seeing them pass their tests.

Following a welcome by Mrs. Robert J. Gardner, regent, Miss Sallie Pritchard, a member of the local Mark Hopkins Children of the American Revolution, also sponsored by the Santa Anita Chapter, presented two musical selections, "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" and "Almost Like Falling in Love." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Linda Ferris.

By special request, Judge John A. H. Sturgeon of the Santa Anita Court again gave the address for the evening, relating his own experiences in becoming a citizen of the United States. He recalled how, as a young lawyer, a famous judge of Los Angeles was an inspiration and great influence in his life by the aid he gave the group of potential citizens at that time studying and aspiring to become new citizens.

Judge Sturgeon endeavored to impress the group with the importance of the step they were about to take in adopting this great country as their home and that they should consider it a privilege and honor to cast their ballots—their duty as true American citizens.

Ed Lojeski, talented young pianist with the Junior Symphony of San Gabriel Valley, played "Clair de Lune" and "Malaguena."

The new citizens signed the Honor Scroll and the regent presented each lady with a small corsage of gold bells, carrying the red, white and blue ribbon. Small American flags also were given to them. The men received boutonnieres of silver stars with like colored ribbon and a flag.

Mrs. Leslie Day, program co-chairman, designed and made the corsages and table arrangements, using the patriotic color scheme, also were under her supervision.

Among those newly graduated members honored were Christ deJong, Mrs. Bertha deJong, Mrs. Alex Mattyssens, Mrs. Ellen May, Mrs. Ostrid Nelson, Mrs. Etta Lewis, Mrs. Madelaine Mason and Mrs. Margaret DeLude.

Children's Society Annual Meeting June 12

The Children's Home Society will celebrate its 65th anniversary at its annual meeting and luncheon June 12 at the Wilshire Ebell Club in Los Angeles.

The Adoption Panel, which will highlight the program, promises to give more basic information on adoption problems in California than has ever been capsuled into a previous meeting.

With Brownies and Blue Birds holding their organizational meetings last week and next, our first grade girls are in a pale pink tizzy. Both girls' organizations are excellent and worthy of interest. Leaders for 2nd grade Troops are needed, so any Mother with the time and inclination please call me or any member of the Sierra Madre Girl Scout Council. You don't have to be the mother of daughters, you know!

Trying to be two places on the same evening is Janet Phillips, who is Committee Chairman for refreshments at the graduation exercises for the day school of the Church of the Ascension (Bishop Bloy will be present) and who must also attend a reception for the Officers and their ladies of the local Naval Reserve Unit. Her husband, Draper W. Phillips, is Commanding Officer.

The Chit-Chat Bridge group had a blazing good time last Thursday at the home of June Fleming (Mrs. George) at 110 S. Holdman Ave. A leak in the alcohol lamp under the coffee urn set off a general conflagration which only Fire Chief James Heasley could extinguish. What these gals won't do to get a fourth at bridge! Present at the bridge session and coffee roast were the hostess June Fleming, Mrs. L. Barkley, Mrs. Raymond Johrde, Mrs. John Tolfree, Mrs. Arthur Albertson, Mrs. Martin Berdahl, Mrs. Gordon Mac Donald, Mrs. Neil Hanson, Mrs. Cecil Hicks, Mrs. Henry Danowsky, Mrs. Eugene Brown, Mrs. Robert Hunsicker, Mrs. Phillip Rosenblum, Mrs. Al Foxton, Mrs. Thomas Motz, and Mrs. Glen Nebel.

Girl Scouts and Fly-up Brownies of Sierra Madre are staging their annual Camporee at Sierra Madre Villa County Park tomorrow and Saturday.

YOUR HEALTH

By ROY A. GILBERT, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

According to the Old Testament, the sound of trumpets and shouting crumbled the walls of Jericho, and many experts believe that the noises of modern civilization, in a more subtle way, may be undermining the personalities and perhaps even the health of thousands of Americans.

Noises are irritants for every normal personality, stated Dr. Thomas Parran, former Surgeon-General of the U.S. Public Health Service. And, in the opinion of one specialist in the field of noise abatement, individuals who live in a welter of city noises may become increasingly scrappy, cranky and generally hard to live with. If true, this could ultimately produce a disastrous effect on human relationships and especially those related to family life.

* * *

RESEARCH SHOWS that even youngsters are affected by noise. One recent study of children who were permitted to watch television while eating showed an increased amount of illness among them, a lack of concentration in school work and mounting disciplinary problems about the home. But few parents, in these days of unrest and revolt, would have the audacity to act on such information.

Doctors have long been aware that noise is detrimental to the physical recovery of sick people, and this is the justification for "Quiet Zone" signs near hospitals. The concept that noise can be a contributing factor to a sick civilization may suggest the need for quiet zones in other areas of our daily life.

Studies made some years ago at Colgate University showed that "sick headaches" are frequently the result of din.

Young mothers will not be surprised to learn that sharp and unexpected sounds, such as those made by a cap pistol or a bursting paper bag, will send the blood pressure soaring higher than an injection of the most potent drugs.

* * *

IN GENERAL, other people's noises are the most disturbing. When the individual himself makes a noise the nervous system is prepared beforehand, and adjustment to the shock is easier.

And of course there are psychological factors that make a sound pleasant to one individual and annoying to others. This is evident in screeching voices, loud music, and other irritating sounds that sometimes emanate from a neighbor's noisy party.

Most authorities are in some disagreement as to what precisely takes place in the human body as the result of continued exposure to noise. However, a large number of doctors are agreed that individuals who constantly suffer a particular stress, experience some kind of change in their nervous, glandular, or cardiovascular systems.

These changes result from a sort of gathering together of man's biological forces to meet the strain, and after a long period, a permanent physical price is extracted for this long-standing reaction to tension. The end result of stress caused by noise might possibly be a nervous breakdown, a chronic illness, an ulcer, or even aggravation to an existing heart condition.

* * *

THESE ARE NOT wild guesses of what noise can do to an individual. They are the speculations of scientists who have worked for a long time to test the effects of noise on man.

IT'S GOOD BEING A DRUG STORE... with a HEART

We are many things to many people — a place to buy toothpaste, chocolate malts, a paper, cigarettes, lipstick, to ask directions, phone, stand in out of the rain. We welcome all of these things — but compared to our reason-for-being, they are incidental. For we started out originally — exclusively as your Pharmacy. And it still remains — our Rexall Pharmacy is still the HEART of our business. It is our pride and the first thing we'd like to have remembered.

We are grateful for the privilege of compounding the drugs your doctor prescribes to improve your health. Remember us the next time you need a prescription filled. We are always happy to serve you.

Commencement Theme Picked

"Expanding Horizons" has been selected by the class presidents for the theme of the 67th annual Commencement Exercises of the Pasadena secondary schools on June 14 at 6:45 p.m. in the Rose Bowl.

Mrs. Marie Ohlsen of the John Muir High School faculty is chairman of the script advisers for 1956. She will be assisted by Miss Margaret O'Donnell of Pasadena High School and Dr. Paul Smith of Pasadena City College.

The 4,000 graduates for 1956 represent Pasadena's six junior high schools, the two senior high schools, the Huntington Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, and the city college.

The Commencement Exercises are open to the public without charge.

Borge to Open Greek Theatre

Victor Borge will open Los Angeles' non-profit Greek Theatre Association June 23 - 29 with a pre-season showing of his "Comedy in Music."

The one-man show recently completed 107 weeks on Broadway—a record for a solo performer.

The scheduled summer season at the outdoor theater in Griffith Park will begin July 2 with Harry Belafonte starring in "Sing, Man, Sing." Scheduled after Mr. Belafonte are the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, and performances of Sigmund Romberg's "The Student Prince" and Victor Herbert's "The Red Mill."

Family Fiesta Set at Monastery

Sponsored by the Mater Dolorosa Laymen's Retreat League, the annual Family Fiesta will be held at the Passionist Fathers' monastery and retreat house, 700 N. Sunnyside Ave., Sierra Madre.

Francis C. Whelan of West Los Angeles has been named fiesta general chairman. A committee of 500 retreatants will assist in every phase of the program, including auto park, children's rides, kitchen and serving, booths, entertainment, awards, grounds preparation, maintenance and cleanup.

Pool Programs Set at Schools

The summer aquatic program at Pasadena City College and Muir High School will offer an instructional program for all ages for non-swimmers, beginners, intermediates, swimmers and advanced students, plus special classes for adults, divers and synchronized swimmers.

Saturday morning classes also will be offered for adults.

Registration is being held now, by appointment only, at 1501 E. Villa St. in Pasadena (SYcamore 3-9177).

Both pools will offer afternoon recreational swimming starting June 18 and continuing through Sept. 3, 1956. Pools will be closed on Sundays.

By JAMES HEASLEY

The year's most serious fire occurred during the week and will increase the fire loss considerably.

All evidence indicates that fire started in a long couch and, after simmering for a length of time during the absence of the resident, created tremendous heat, damaging all rooms and walls before its discovery.

It soon was extinguished by the fire department after it was notified. Too much cannot be said for the early arrival of the men of the Police Department, who immediately took action to remove the couch from the house. And once more, we must laud the lowly garden hose for first applicance.

It is earnestly urged that all householders have a GOOD hose that will reach to all sections of the house. It may mean the difference between a large and small damage.

And once more we plead with those who insist on driving to a fire to stay away from the fire trucks and a block away from the fire. By all means, keep out of the house—you are liable for many things.

* * *

WE ARE FINDING several fire plugs covered with vines and shrubbery. These plugs should be seen by the driver of the fire truck long before he reaches them. When they're covered, who can see them? The plug may be unsightly to you, but they certainly look good to the firemen as they approach the scene.

Bob Newberry reported great progress with the new maps describing the location of the new fire plugs, and the new district numbers soon to be added. Because the present signal system includes large areas, a change is being made. Bob deserves a lot of applause for his recent long and tedious work in forming the new map.

OUR TREASURER had less difficulty in reading the financial report last Friday after Jimmie Cole's accidental hoarseness cost him a fine that exceeded the usual. Others who were warned with small fines included Jim Cass and Tom Solury. Both found something to talk about when they should have been listening.

People who are punctual for their appointments waste a lot of time waiting for others.

HOPE SUNDAY—Proclaiming June as City of Hope Month, Governor Goodwin J. Knight this week urged all citizens to help the free, nonsectarian medical center by contributing on "Hope Sunday," June 3, during the giant door-to-door solicitation throughout the Southland. Governor Knight is pictured here with Postmaster Otto K. Olesen, chairman of the drive, and Victor M. Carter, City of Hope president. City of Hope is supported solely by voluntary contributions.

READY-TO-BAKE COOKIES

Keep a supply of ready-to-bake cookies on hand. You'll be ready to serve freshly baked cookies on demand.

Don't confuse that with poetry. It's simply good advice to the homemaker who likes to be prepared with a bit of refreshment for guests who drop in, after-school snacks for the youngsters or a quick supplement to a simple dessert.

A store of refrigerator cookies and a jar of homemade cookie mix helps you serve tempting hot cookies in a jiffy.

CHOCOLATE SLICES

1¼ C. butter or margarine
1½ C. sugar
2 eggs
4 sq. unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 tsp. vanilla
2 C. chopped walnuts
4 C. sifted flour
4 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt

Cream butter or margarine. Add sugar gradually and cream until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs. Add melted chocolate, vanilla and nuts and beat until well blended. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to mixture. Shape into rolls 1½ inches in diameter. (Chilling dough makes it easier to shape.) Wrap rolls in heavy wax paper or aluminum foil and store in refrigerator until firm enough to slice. Cut in ⅛ inch slices and place on unoiled cookie sheet. Bake at 375° for about 10 minutes.

For a change, omit walnuts. Divide dough into 4 parts. Mix one of the following into each part and shape into rolls:

½ C. broken walnuts
½ C. coconut
¼ C. chopped raisins and ¼ C. broken walnuts
¼ C. chopped dried apricots and ¼ C. broken walnuts

HOMEMADE COOKIE MIX

¾ C. shortening
1 C. brown sugar, firmly packed
1½ C. sifted flour
¾ tsp. soda
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
2 C. rolled or quick-cooking oats

Mix shortening and sugar together with a pastry blender. Sift flour, soda, salt and cinnamon together and blend into the shortening and sugar. Stir in oatmeal. (Do not pack oatmeal when you measure it.) Store mix in a covered jar in refrigerator until you are ready to bake cookies.

SPEEDY COOKIES
(From Homemade Cookie Mix)

2½ C. cookie mix
¼ C. chopped nuts
⅓ C. raisins
1 egg, beaten
2 Tbsp. water

Measure cookie mix (½ of the amount made from recipe for Homemade Mix) into a large bowl. Add nuts, raisins, egg and water. Mix with a fork to form a stiff dough. Drop from teaspoon onto oiled cookie sheet. Bake in Modern Gas Range oven at 375° for 12 to 15 minutes.

Marian will be awarded a B.S. degree in secretarial science and plans to work as a secretary for the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists in Glendale. Robert, receiving a B.A. degree in history, plans to attend the University of Southern California law school in the Fall.

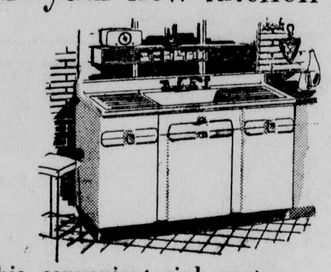

Both have been students at Pacific Union College for four years and were graduated from Glendale Union Academy.

While attending Pacific Union College, Robert was president of the mens dormitory club and the College Concert Band, and associate editor of the campus newspaper. His sister was associate secretary of the student body and college yearbook, and president of the secretarial club.

SPEAKING OF TAXES

- The State tax limit for high schools was set in 1917.
- Obviously, this limit no longer provides enough money to operate our schools.
- Other communities have the same problem. South Pasadena, San Marino, Arcadia and Alhambra finance their schools as we do—by authorizing more realistic tax limits than those set by the State.
- Our present authorization of $1.36 (per $100 of assessed valuation) expires June 30.
- Rock-bottom estimates of need during the next three years require a tax ceiling of $1.16 (Proposition D on your primary election ballot).
- Note that this is 20 cents lower than the expiring tax limit. Yes, lower.
- That's why it's to your advantage to vote Yes on Proposition D. KEEP GOOD SCHOOLS!

She is survived by her husband, Nels H. Seaholm; one son, Richard R. Seaholm, and a daughter, Betty Lou Seaholm, all of Sierra Madre, and one grandchild.

Funeral services will be today at the Ripple Mortuary Chapel, with the Rev. Chilton C. McPheeters officiating. Interment will be in Live Oak Memorial Park, Monrovia.

It's hard to convince a man who is cornered that he is going to get a square deal.

LAW IN ACTION

CONTRACTS

With a contract men can work together, make firm plans, and get things done, for it is an agreement enforceable at law. Contracts have been made with elaborate ceremony—or by a handclasp or a signal in a grain market.

Could we live in a world without contracts? Well, Robinson Crusoe on his lonely island did, so long as no one else was around. But he saved Friday from the cannibals—and at once each man took on duties and claimed rights: With his gun Crusoe could protect Friday in return for Friday's work. In effect they had a contract which each kept until their rescue years later.

But what if we scoot off the planet? Couldn't Crusoe and Friday escape contracts then? Of course, we don't know what laws hold elsewhere. But a recent science fiction story tells of Earth's destruction by a blowup on the sun. With only enough space ships for 20,000 picked people, Earthmen blast off for Mars to start a new civilization.

First they worked hard to secure themselves against violent storms and to grow crops on the harsh land. Then, with cities, new problems arose: People wished to trade their work, and stock up on extra food, clothes, shelter. One tells another, "Work my shift today, and I will work yours next week." And so contracts came into being — informally at first. Soon simple rules became laws, and society moved with contracts quite as in the good old days back on Earth.

You find the idea of a contract in man's first writings. Even today it meets men's complex needs in the age of the atom.

When do you have a contract? When two or more people agree to do something lawful they want and each one binds himself to do his part under penalties for reneging—to bring something about or to stop it from happening. A contract is the basis of our division of labor and the bedrock of present day civilization.

Note: The State Bar of California offers this column for you to know more about our laws.

The Green Frog

TALKS AGAIN

LATELY a lot of you good folks have been asking about me. You inquire, "How come ROBERTS MARKET is the 'Home of the Green Frog'?"

SO POP HAS given me the floor — or the puddle, you might say — in order to answer your questions.

HE SAYS THAT "He that tooteth not his own bazoo, the same shall not be tooted!" Though I am a modest sort of guy, orders are orders, so here I go:

FOR 28 YEARS I have sat here on my pollywog posterior quietly directing the affairs of this growing business. Did I say 28 years? Well, I guess that is right, though I don't feel that old; which is probably because I am in my fourth incarnation, my present physical self being 15 years old, and Mexican in origin. That is why I sometimes refer to myself as La Rana Verde — a pretty fancy name for a Green Frog, eh?

YOU SEE, Mom and Pop got into the vegetable business three years before I was hatched. While I am not an eavesdropper, I can't help but listen, can I? So I have reasoned that Mom and Pop tackled that kind of a job because the wolf was gnawing at the door and it looked like the best way to make a living in Sierra Madre at that time.

THE FACT THAT they eventually got to own a complete food market as big as my present home may have been luck — or it may have been due to plain hard work and long hours. Quien sabe?

YES, I KNOW I am supposed to be talking about myself; but I don't seem to be able to do that without talking about Mom and Pop.

FROM 1925 to 1928 they conducted their fruit and vegetable business as lessees in someone else's stores.

WHEN THEY GOT THE IDEA of having a store all their own, they wanted something to distinguish their vegetable market from all the others. And what could be more appropriate than a GREEN FROG whose natural element is water and who would spray life-saving moisture on the crisp, garden-fresh products that Mom and Pop had come to love so well?

THAT'S WHERE I came in! Believe me, I was mighty proud sitting there on a lily pad in the beautiful wet stand Pop had built just for me! I had the responsibility of keeping all those fine vegetables crisp and tender. And I liked it!

THEN POP BUILT the rest of the store around me, sorta like a horse shoe. Truly I was the biggest frog in the puddle! This fine little store was located where HAPPY now holds forth.

TIME WENT ON. The little store up the street grew and grew until the walls were bulging and would no longer hold all the fruits and vegetables, to say nothing of the groceries and such that had been added to take care of our customers.

SO MOM AND POP moved into the present big store in 1931; and once again they put me right in the center of the market.

WELL, I SAT THERE — busy, alert and quiet — and supervised the whole business. But I must have done too good a job! Eventually the darn grocery business, meat business and all got so big that I was forced off my throne in the center of the store. They moved me into a separate vegetable department (all my own, though), and they gave me a long, gleaming, mirror-backed wet stand. So beautiful, but so coldly efficient! Oh, well!

I NOW SIT HERE, still proudly, and direct the operations of this beautiful, one-stop food store.

MY SOMEWHAT ADVANCED AGE has taught me that this market is truly "on the square," and that low prices, high quality and friendly service will continue to build a business that will never know completion!

COME IN AND SEE ME SOMETME!

WE ARE STILL big enough to serve you and small enough to know you!

Cheerfully yours,
THE GREEN FROG.

P.S. I have a cousin in Salomi, Arizona, who is much older than I am. This poor guy has not even seen water yet!

Hasta la vista!

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

Yesterday was Decoration Day. Did you know that this holiday was made official in some of the Northern States in 1868, after the close of the Civil War, which was going to be the last war that was fought? How discouraging it must be for those very few soldiers who are left from that great war to see how many more warriors have gone down in the field of battle. With all of our modern ways and equipment, we can do no better than our forefathers did before us. We can't seem to stop the reasons for the wars. The only improvement that has been made by time is that our equipment is better and we can go farther and faster into destruction.

DR. AND MRS. Charles Rasmussen of 1845 Kinneloa Canyon Road, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. Kieth Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Orde Ward at a pre-theater dinner party last week. They all went to see "Ladies in Retirement" at the Town Hall Theater. The performance was sponsored for the night by the Pasadena Osteopathic Auxiliary.

* * *

SALLY PARKER, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spelts Parker of 1701 Country Lane, celebrated her birthday by entertaining 20 children from her kindergarten class at Anoakia. They all played games and ice cream and cake were served at the close of the party.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. R. L. Fox of 1150 Mesita Road and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zook of 1120 Mesita Road spent the weekend of the 17th in San Diego. They stayed at the Kona Kai Club where they participated in the Pasadena Kiwanis Club annual outing.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Roland O. Spencer of 3289 Fairpoint are the proud parents of a new baby girl, born May 12. She weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces and is named Gloria Jean. Mrs. Spencer said it was awfully hard on her husband, but they pulled him through.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Edwin Pyle of 1432 Old House Road were a bit daunted by the weather last Friday. They planned an outdoor bar-b-que party to honor Mr. and Mrs. George Collinge, who are moving to Phoenix. Needless to say, he party was, pardon the expression, drizzled right oue of the yard and into the house. Among the guests were Messrs. and Mmes. C. E. Tindall, Ed Barnes, K. W. Kendrick and William Benson.

* * *

MRS. A. C. ONG of 3335 Trevan Road entertained six members of the Bertranda Section of the Shakespeare Club at her Balboa Beach house on the 17th and 18th. While they were there they attended a large party at the Balboa Bay Club for the 52 members of the Shakespeare Club. Saturday and Sunday they had Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scott as their houseguests.

* * *

MRS. MARSHALL HARRIS of 1501 Sierra Madre Villa and Mrs. Eldon Osburn of 3200 Edgewood Lane, accompanied six young ladies to Corona Del Mar last Friday, where they had their Brownie Fly-up overnight campout. They stayed at the Osburn home and the girls prepared all of the meals themselves. Among those in the group were Janet Osburn, Barby Siechert, Linda Farmer, Candy Crawford and Susie Harris.

MR. AND MRS. Aikman Armstrong of 3450 Fairpoint, spent the past weekend vacationing in Palm Springs. Mr. Armstrong just returned last week from a 10-day business trip in the East.

Gamma Phi Beta Meeting June 5

The Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Chapter of the Pasadena area will meet June 5 in the Altadena home of Mrs. R. F. Lynch, 2026 New York Dr., for its regular monthly meeting.

Hostesses for the 12:30 luncheon will be Mrs. W B. Bryant, Mrs. Edward Benz, Mrs. Clarke Ewing and Mrs. Donald Murray.

THIS WAS THE SCENE last Thursday after a two-car collision at the corner of Valley View and Alegria. The car above, driven by Mrs. Robert Eastman, 230 Sunnyside, Sierra Madre, was headed west on Alegria when it collided with another going north on Valley View. The other car was driven by Mrs. Merrill E. Dixon, 436 Carmelita, Arcadia. Mrs. Eastman suffered three cracked ribs and her son, David, 2, and nephew, Wayne, suffered cuts and lacerations. Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Eastman of Sierra Madre. Mrs. Dixon suffered no apparent injuries. After the collision, Mrs. Dixon's car went over the curb and across the lawn at 1245 Valley View, striking a sedan parked in the driveway there and sending it crashing into a station wagon also parked in the driveway. Both are owned by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Behr of the Valley View address.

Demos Hear Debate on Estes, Adlai

Hastings Ranch Democratic Club, holding its final meeting before the June primary, heard a debate between advocates of Estes Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Linden, 3699 Mayfair.

Mrs. Helen Schrank, a Kefauver delegate to the 1952 national convention, told the group that her candidate had electibility" and could point to "a fine record in the Senate in all fields." She said placing a "dark horse candidate before the people would be admitting defeat."

Wallace Langshore, a UCLA graduate student, and president of Southern California Students for Stevenson, said his candidate will provide the "more sensitive leadership the country needs," pointed to Stevenson's published articles on world affairs as well as issues at home, to explain his understanding of them

Linda Taylor Has Birthday

Linda Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Taylor, 1270 Tropical, celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary last Saturday at a theater party and luncheon.

FOLK AND SQUARE dancing classes will start May 31 at the Girls' Club, 3160 E. Blanche. Fourth graders and down will have their lessons 6:45 to 7:45, and 5th, 6th and Junior Highs will be 7:45 to 8:45. The fee will be 25 cents for each time you come. Special dance festivals with related costumes for top students, local and out of town. Bring your own partners and have fun. Call the Girls' Club, SYcamore 6-1611.

THE LAST "all-school dance" last Friday night was a huge success. It was the largest and best dance ever. Fran Cook and Margrathe Bertelson were selected "Queens of the Dance," and Danny Armstrong was selected "King." It's amazing how few "bops" were played. It seems Wilsonites now prefer the waltz, fox trot and swing. The Boys' Sport Club, directed by Coach Baker, planned the party.

YEGRESKE LEON and Linda Jordan were chosen president and vice president of the Junior Red Cross. The week after school is out they will go to the Riverside Training Center for one week.

WILSON BEAT Eliot last Friday in baseball with a score of 5-4. An extra inning had to be played because we were tied in the 7th. Lornie Jesperson hit the winning home run for Wilson. After the game Lornie and Coach Baker were thrown in the shower.

Wilson is now the baseball champion of Pasadena.

WRITERS WEEK

Pasadena City College and the combined writers' clubs of the Pasadena area announced this week that the second annual Writers Week at PCC will take place June 18-21.

By David Brearley
SYcamore 8-7430

Marshall did very well in sports this year, and perhaps a short review would be in order. Although Washington's A team won the championship, we tied with Eliot for second place. Our congratulations to Mr. Geyer for being a swell coach. Our B team placed third thanks to the fine coaching by Mr. Pappas.

* * *

WE SURE did shine in basketball this year. Mr. Busik's teams were on top in both A and B divisions. The A's were undefeated, and the B5s lost only one game. Our gymnastic teams, coached by Mr. Schwartz, took fourth in the city at Eliot.

* * *

IT LOOKS LIKE we should wind up in good shape in baseball. There is a fine chance that our A's may be in first place in the city with the help of Jim Balzell and Gaylon McIntire. Then the B's have Jack Lightbody and Tommy Wilson to keep them on top. Each of these players is a returning letterman.

* * *

KIDS WHO intend to run for elections next year signed up last week. Two girls from our class are included, Lee Tharp and Sharen Lesher.

* * *

IN TRACK the following are listed as the top five in each team: A team—Sutherland, Hein, Dewar, Peace, MyIntyre; B team—Artman, Lerke, Dreyfuss, Smith, Woods.

* * *

CAROLE SCHOFIELD, our Marshallite editorial writer, dashed off a very nice little closing column which I should like to pass on to you. It read, in part: "As the school years pass by, most of us realize a common desire for advancement. However, success in school cannot be obtained easily. It does not come to us, we are compelled to seek it out and labor over it ourselves. We are required to put forth an effort, the amount of which is entirely up to us. Within a month the classrooms of John Marshall will be closed. To those who will return to continue your studies here, and to those who are going on to further requirements—may you find that magic quality within yourself, to participate and to succeed in your schoolwork. Ambition, the key to achevement, will not only better our lives for the present, but will also enable us to be ready for the future."

SO LONG for now—just remember what the parachute jumping instructor told his students. "And if it doesn't open up, men, that's what's known as jumping to a conclusion."

Sierra-Hastings Camp Fire Log

The Chi-Ko-Da Camp Fire Girls highlighted a busy spring season by an overnight and cookout at Sierra Madre Villa Park last Friday night.

During the evening an Indian ceremonial and party for the parents was held around the big camp fire. Special treats were Indian stories by Harold Clardy and Clarence Robinson, and ghost stories by Larry Robinson. Additional chaperons were the guardian, Mrs. Helmut Vorster, and Thomas Justice.

Girls receiving their beads for honors earned while working for Woodgatherer's Rank were Vicki Atkinson, Cheryl Stubbs, Margaret Pedigo, Joanne Vorster, Cathy Clardy, Barbara Paige, Kathy Ower, Nora Justice, Diane Carew, Ellen Clark, and Susan Ann Robinson.

Missing from the ceremony were Carrie Parnell, who is spending several weeks in Guatemala, and the newest member from Germany, Ingrid Gramberg, who was spending the week in San Francisco.

Recently elected officers are: President, Barbara Pedigo; vice president, Ellen Clark; secretary, Susan Ann Robinson, and treasurer, Cathy Clardy. They planned the family picnic to Kellogg's Horse Ranch in early May, and for June have scheduled a bicycle-swim trip, in addition to preparing for the Grand Council Fire on June 8.

Hastings Residents Join Drive Against Sears Shopping Center

By Lucy Lubisich

Irate residents of Hastings Ranch and the adjoining section of Arcadia directly east of Michillinda are expected to overrun City Hall at 9 a.m. next Thursday when Sears, Roebuck and Co. will seek a zoning variance to change the southeast corner of Hastings Ranch from residential to commercial use.

Advance publicity from the big merchandising chain announced that a new Pasadena store would be constructed on the northwest corner of Foothill and Michillinda, but it developed last week that the firm could not build as planned unless the city approved the zone change.

Spearheaded by the long established and powerful Rancho Santa Anita Property Owners Association, representing some 250 homes of the luxury estate type, petitions of protest have been signed by homeowners throughout the area, including Upper Hastings.

As the property now is zoned, a 160-foot-wide strip along Michillinda from Mayfair to Foothill is listed as R-1, the 400 feet west of the strip listed as R-3 and the remaining 1,050 feet listed for commercial.

According to the Sears plan, approximately half of its facilities would fall in the residential area. Entrances and exits would be on Michillinda, with a 10-foot planting area along Michillinda between the driveways.

Owners John R., Edwin W. and Frank A. Murphy petitioned in behalf of Sears, Roebuck and Co., which would lease the property provided the zone change is made.

The Murphy brothers maintained in the application that the land "could not economically be developed for residences" and that the Sears buildings "would definitely enhance the attractiveness of the area generally."

According to William B. Etheridge, a Pasadena attorney and resident of the Arcadia area, one of Southern California's largest developers and builders is prepared to bid the fair market value for the property in question and construct proper dwellings, including South Orange Grove style apartments, on the R-3 section.

Residents protesting the zone change maintain that the Sears store would substantially devaluate their property, that the nature of the business would draw throngs from miles around bringing an increase in traffic and exhaust fumes, and generally lower the caliber of one of the few remaining prime residential sections of the area.

Etheridge pointed out that Pasadena and Arcadia at present also have an agreement that the Michillinda property shall be maintained as a residential area, and he said Pasadena planners will be "reminded and requested to observe the agreement."

He said the property owners have engaged an attorney to fight the "encroachment of the largest merchandising operation in the world into the quiet residential development and are prepared, if necessary, to take it to the State Supreme Court."

According to Robert Geffs, president of the association, nearly 1,000 owners will have registered their protests prior to the hearing. He said he believed large numbers of them "with blood in their eyes, would descend upon the Planning Commission to give vent to their outraged feelings."

Since announcement that Sears would build, a number of homes in the area already have been sold or are listed for sale. According to Etheridge, as an example of the lowering of values, an Arcadia lot facing Michillinda has dropped in price from $18,000 to $10,000.

The protest being signed by homeowners sets forth that "the public interest, health, safety, comfort, convenience and general welfare require that the application (for zoning variance) be wholly denied."

Residents said they favor a shopping center for the use of the neighborhood in the zone presently listed as commercial.

Seventh Round Bridge Scores Announced

The third bridge tournament of the Hastings Ranch Nursery School is drawing to a close but chairman Mrs. Gordon Wright said some games are still to be played. She urged that they be played immediately, and scores turned in to her, so that play-offs may begin.

Tournament 1—Mr. and Mrs. Dave Allen, 13,230 points.

Tournament 2—Mr. and Mrs. William Caldecott, 21,300.

Tournament 3—Mr. and Mrs. Ken Christianson, 21,660.

Tournament 4—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osborn, 23,390.

Tournament 5—Mr. and Mrs. Chris Larsen, 21,520.

Camps for Boys Filling Up Fast

The Santa Anita District YMCA announced this week that no more applicants for Camps Orizaba at Catalina Island and Arbolado in the San Bernardino Mountains would be taken as their quotas have been reached.

There still are openings for Camp Bluff Lake, to be held July 7-14 in the San Bernardino Mountains, and in all six sessions of Day Camp to be held in the Arcadia Park July 16 to Aug. 2 and in Monrovia Aug. 6-23.

Yankees, Beavers and Rams Lead in Little League Play

(Standings on Page 4)

By Charles Ayres

Loose fielding and timely hitting marked the second week of Little League activity in the Ranch.

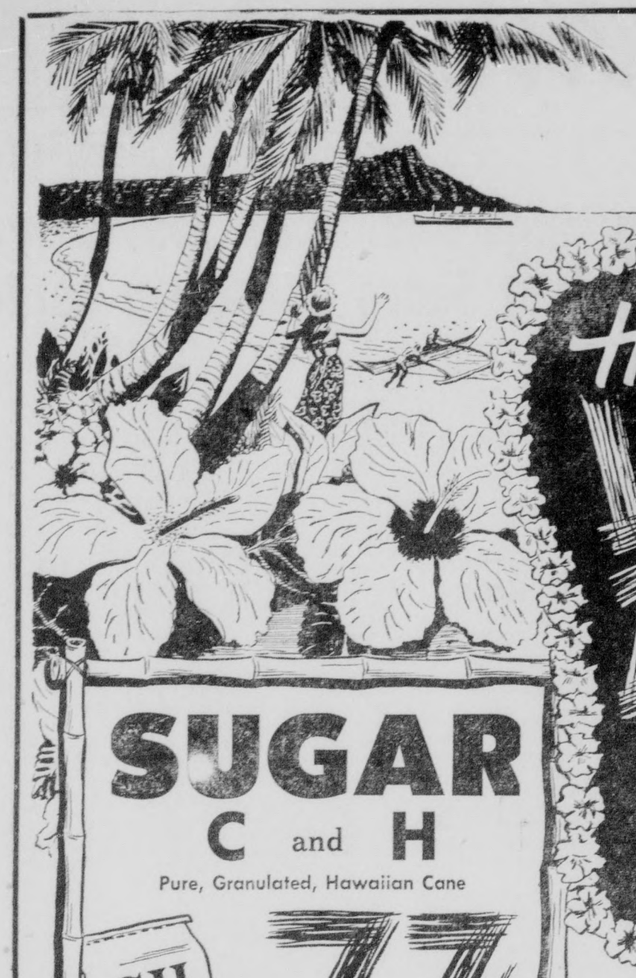

Fifty hits and 32 errors marked the play of the American League teams that saw the Yankees remain undefeated and the Indians gain their first win.

The games continued to be close and could have gone either way. Bill Carr's single with the bases loaded in the last of the sixth inning scored the two runs that beat the Reds 8-7. On the other diamond the Braves were putting up quite an argument before the Yankees won out, 7-6.

Jock McGraw and Sterling Peacock of the Braves and John Wallace of the Reds hit home runs.

National League scores continued to be high with the Angels taking high scoring honors with 35 runs against the Cubs. Jim Browning hit a home run in the Stars' losing cause against the undefeated Beavers.

The Rams walloped the Dodgers, 27-6 to take over the lead in the Coast League, while the Eagles were scoring 37 runs against the Red Sox' 14.
